Milam County Red Cross Campaign For Memders and Funds Lagging

Jack W. Prescott, Red Cross Chapter chairman expressed concern today for the future of the Blood Program in Milam County, in view of the lagging Red Cross campaign for members and funds.

"Financing the Blood pragram depends on the success of this drive," he said.

Only $4,000 has been collected so far, according to incomplete reports from over Milam County. This is just about $200 more than 50 per cent of the goal for the county in the fund campaign. A total of 850 members have been enrolled, compared to a goal of 1700.

"The loceal blood program is financed by money collected in the fund drive and can be continued only if the necessary funds are available," Prescott stated.

Benefits received by residents of this county from the blood program alone in 1953 exceeded actual money value the total county quota of $7,612 for 1954, according to the chapter chairman.

"Milam County residents would have had to pay about $8,500 for the blood and blood derivatives they used last year if the blood had not been available through the Red Cross," Prescott pointed out.

A total of 300 pints of blood collected from volunteer donnors through the Red Cross Blood program were administered last year to residents of this county in the hospitals of Rockdale and Cameron.

In addition, according to Prescott, the Central Texas Regional Blood Center in Waco estimates that at least 25 per cent more blood (75 pints valued $1875.00) was usde by Milam County citizens hospitalized outside the county.

"This means," said Prescott, "an estimated total of more than ten thousand dollars worth of blood alone provided by the Red Cross free to Milam County people during 1953."

Prescott went on to urge all Milam County residents who have not yet contributed to the 1954 Red Cross Fund to give generously.

"Give through your community campaign, or send your donation to S. Burton Smith, County Fund Chairman, P. O. Box 227, Rockdale, Texas," Prescott stated.

Rabies Found In County This Week

One rabise case in animals was found this week in Milam County, according to Dr. John B. Bryson, director of Milam County Health Unit.

Dr. Bryson also added that only 20 cases of measles were found during the past week, which is only one-half the total reported last week.

Other cases listed were fifteen of strept throat, one each of the mumps, anebiasis and two cases of gonorrhea.

The report was for the week ending Friday, March 26.

Mr. Kirschke is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. H. Wilkins of Ad Hall, Mrs. Clara Crawford, Houston, Mrs. Margaret Deal, Galveston and Mrs. Dorothy Lagrone of Cameron; and two sons, Tom Kirschke and Irvin Kirschke, both of Buckholts.

Honor Court Held, Sponsors Needed For New Scout Troop

Boy Scouts were presented merit badges, tenderfoot badges and new rank at the short but impressive Court of Honor held in the Methodist Church fellowship hall Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Conducting the Court and presenting the badges were Rev. John Solomon, Exploror Scout Advisor, and Allen Dodson, the Scoutmaster.

Due to a slight confliction of time schedules the room was crowded with interested Cub Scouts and their mothers.

Johnny Davis received the Second Class Rank and Wendell Kirk received the first class rank.

Three merit badges were awarded to Ray Green and two merit badges were presented to Johnny Solomon.

Tenderfoot badges were presented to Mark Perrin, Burton Bryson, Allen Dodson, Jr., Bernay Dusek, Jack Keeling III, and Claude Blackwell.

Following the ceremony a film on Camp Tahuaya was shown. Troop 83 will leave for a weeks camping trip at Tahuaya the week beginning June 27.

When giving a report of the meeting Scoutmaster Dodson stated that there are only two scout troops, two explorer scout divisions and one Catholic troop in the immediate area, with all the troops overcrowded. He pointed out that the main need in the Boy Scout movement now is for sponsors for new troops and for adult leaders to work with the boys.

Any organization in town wishing to sponsor a troop can contact Rev. Solomon or Mr. Dodson. Little effort or expenditure is involved in sponsoring a troop and there are about 250 boys in Cameron who will benefit.

Local Scouts will attend a service in Waco on May 22, and 23 for all the troops in the Heart O' Texas Council.

The next Honor Court will be held during the later part of this summer.

a one man war against the high Southwestern Bell Telephone rates.

In order to reduce the rates, he proposes a state telephone commission to regulate the rates. There are forty-five states out of forty eight that operate such a commission satisfactorily.

Johnson stated. "It is very unfair for the public to be penalized by these rates just because a telephone is today's necessity."

He also advocates $100 monthly pension to eligible citizens at 65. This is his first political race.

A civic leader of Austin and a Baptist, it was through his efforts that Billy Graham, the international evangelist visited Texas.

Mrs. Woodum Heads Easter Seal Campaign In Area

The tremendous job of addressing, stuffing and sealing 1,500 enpeal envelopes which will eventually carry Easter Seals to residents throughout the Cameron area has been completed, according to Mrs. R. J. Woodum co-chairman of the local campaign.

Volunteer workers began the pre-campaign maneuvers in preparation of this 22nd annual drive last week. Mrs. Albert Horstmann, chairman of the School fund committee, assisted by the Civic Garden Club started distributing the individual Easter Seal bunnies to the school children and the 3-Arts club, with Mrs. George Bowman as chairman, addressed and mailed the appeal letters.

"Our volunteer workers are doing the job with great enthusiasm," Mrs. Woodum, campaign chairman said. "And with community-wide recognition of the fine job our Easter Seal Society is doing for crippled children, I am confident that a sufficient amount of funds will be collected for our work during 1954."

Business and Profession Women club members have made plans for a booth to be located in the downtown business area on the Saturday before Easter where Easter Lillies will be on sale, with the proceeds going to the Easter Seal drive.

Seventy-five per-cent of the amount collected will remain within Milam County with the remainder distributed to the national and state headquarters.

The month-long campaign was slightly delayed this year so that it would not interfere with the Red Cross and will not close until April 25.

Mrs. John T. Hale of Rockdale is co-chairman with Mrs. Woodum, Richard Williams is treasurer of the Milam county drive and anyone not contacted and wishing to purchase seals can see Mr. Williams at the First National Bank in Cameron.

Mrs. J. B. White is acting as publicity chairman.

The seal for 1954 is designed in bright blue, white and yellow. It incorporates the white lily symbol of the Easter Seal Societies imposed on a yellow envelope which symbolizes use of Easter Seals.

This annual appeal is sponsored by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which assists all those up to the age of 18, and is conducted in the 48 states, District of Columbia, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Farm Bureau Urges All Farmers To Return Unused Cotton Acres

Milam County cotton growers who do not intend to plant their full allotment should release their unplanted acreage to the county ASC Committee, according to the Milam County Farm Bureau.

"Releasing the unplanted acreage to the committee won't hurt the farmer's individual allotment history," the county farm leader said. "Acreage released will be considered as planted on the farm from which it was released, provided that any cotton was planted on the farm in 1952, 1953, or 1954. Thus, the farmer who releases unplanted acreage gets credit for them in future allotments."

The latter is one of the provisions of the 1954 Law which the Farm Bureau promoted.

President Smith stated that the released acreage that is planted elsewhere not only will help other farmers who want to plant cotton this year, but also will help to preserve the historical acreage base of the county and state.

Acreage must be released by Friday, April 16, 1954, in Milam county. Official premeasurement of all marketing quota crops will be offered. Farmers will have to pay the cost of this, however, it will save the expense of plowing up overplanted acreage or the loss of underplanting.

MORE VOLUNTEERS REPORT FOR WORK WITH LIBRARY PROJECT

Reverend Jim McKeown, who has been devoting his time to the completion of the Cameron Library, announced today that about 14 women have generously donated their services at the Library.

He said that arrangements have been made with Miss Mary Jo Boyd, Yoe high school librarian, to conduct preliminary instruction and demonstration meetings so that those working on the project might continue their work at times convenient to them.

The Library key has been deposited with Mrs. J. W. Miller, who lives only two doors down from the Library, and is available upon request.

There are a variety of books to be read in the perky, newly decorated rooms of the library. Everything is in readiness, the Jaycees have painted the walls, colorful denim curtains hang at the windows, the tables are invitingly placed for an hour or two of browsing or serious reading—everything is ready except the books.

The recent turn-out of volunteer workers has been very encouraging, Rev. McKeown stated, and we certainly hope to be finished with the books as soon as possible. There is still a lot of work to be done, he added, and anyone having some spare time they would like to delegate to the project would be greatly appreciated.

Reverend J. McKeown has given his help unstintingly to help the project which will be a pleasure to the entire community when completed.

Mrs. W. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. Charles Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Wm. Wallace made the gaily striped curtains. Mrs. Abe Fleisher, Mrs. David Shapiro, Mrs. Adolph Weinfield, Mrs. Elmo Obermiller and her son have diligently worked at an assortment of duties to make the books available to the public.

This isn't enough, more workers are needed. If you have a few minutes available after four o'clock in the afternoon contact Rev. Jim McKeown and register your name as one who will help make the Cameron-Library-to-be into the Cameron Library.

Completion of Highway Expected To Be Sometime During June

Dirt work for the partially new, partially re-worked Highway 36 leading from Cameron to Temple is now about 99 percent completed, according to Walter Ruff, State Highway Engineer who is in charge of the project.

He emphasized the fact that the new black-topped highway, which will tie into Highway 190 approximately 13 miles this side of Temple, will meet all the specifications for the most modern of highways. Although most of the new road has been routed on the old roadbed, all of the "dead-man" curves have been eliminated and hills have been cut away to allow easy vision of approaching vehicles.

Completion date has not been set, according to Mr. Ruff, but, weather permitting, the opening of the new 24 foot highway should be sometime in June, one year after its initial inception.

LITTLE LEAGUERS MAKE PLANS FOR SEASON ON NEW DIAMOND

Little fellows are donning their billed caps, trying out their last years mit and adopting the swagger of their older brothers, for baseball season has come in again with the tinkle of broken glass.

Little Leaguers and their sponsors are particularly enthusiastic this year. They are likely to have a brand-new stadium with lights for the added entertainment and enjoyment of players, kibitzers and grand-standers alike.

The site for the long hoped for diamond is the newly graded plot of ground directly east of the school which was purchased by the School Board this week from A. W. McCullin and Mr. Eickenhorst. This will also provide space for an extension to the school track course.

Joe O'Neill who has worked with the Little League, along with "Doc" Spears and Allen Dodson, for a number of summers, reported that a meeting of all team-age youngsters parents will be called sometime within the coming week to make initial plans for the season.

C. L. Sadberry, principal of the school, announced that the program will be opened by the Aycox high school band of Rockdale. The Aycox band, which recently captured several high honors at a regional band meet, will play two selections. The Rockdale band was just recently organized.

Another special attraction of the evening will be the 65-voice chorus from Kemp high school of Bryan. This chorus has attracted fame in the musical field, and they will sing three numbers.

Two selections will be heard from the Branchville chorus; Maysfield chorus; Washington elementary school chorus, Bryan; Carver elementary school chorus, Bryan; Aycox high school chorus, Rockdale; Booker T. Washington high school chorus, Marlin and the chorus from the Taylor school.

SCS Supervisor Practices What He Preaches

Hal Hartrick, Member

Edwin F. Fischer, district supervisor of Central Texas Soil Conservation District not only preaches, but he also practices soil and water conservation. For many years he has been a conservation leader and has dedicated a lot of his time to promoting conservation in his community around Buckholts, as well as over the district that he represents.

His 64 acre farm east of Buckholts may well serve as an illustration farm, showing the use and treatment that the Central Texas Soil Conservation Distric advocates for the Blacklands of this area.

From the beginning Mr. Fischer started with a conservation plan for each acre of the farm. This plan was designed to use the land within its capabilities and at the same time give it the treatment needed to control erosion, conserve water and improve production.

Taking into consideration the physical characteristics of the land, Mr. Fischer and the Soil Conservation Service planner worked out the total needs of the land. First, the permanent type of conservation practices were considered. They found that there was a need for the stock ponds for stock water, 12 acres of brush needed to be eradicated 6 acres of pasture needed overseeding. One waterway needed to be sodded to carry terrace water, 600 feet of diversion terraces were needed, and below this, 3 miles of terraces were needed. All of these practices have been completed.

Then the recurring practices were considered. Contour farming, of course, fits with the terraces, the value of green cover and stubble left on the surface was agreed upon and these practices are applied each year to fit the needs. The seventeen acres of pasture and meadow are managed to allow the better grasses to increase in number and vigor.

Mr. Fischer has applied the practices needed to conserve the soil and water and is working toward more production with better conservation farming. He is to be commended not only on his own farm, but also for his unselfish time that has been dedicated to his community and district.

"Resurrection Story" Told In Choirs Easter Contata on April 11th

The 46 members of the choir are from every denomination and the general public has been invited to attend the Easter Contata, no admission will be charged.

Assisting Mrs. Hickman with the choir activities are Mrs. Mark Magers and Miss Shirley Horstmann.

Purposes of a newspaper are many-fold. It tells you all of the things of interest happening in the community and surrounding towns, it publicizes the worth-while campaigns and projects and it gives accurate information on where to purchase your needs at the minimum expense.

A well informed public is a good indication that the newspaper in that town is doing a good job. The newspaper staff works diligently to bring you todays news today, so when you are called upon to give information be sure to give all the facts and the correct names of the people involved so that you can have a paper Milam County can be proud of.

Does it pay to advertise? Most assuredly it does, and especially if it is newspaper advertising. Everyone is looking for a bargain, for something new in entertainment and for quality and all of those same people read their community newspaper.

All successful business men realize this, for instance J. C. Penney, board chairman of the J. C. Penney Co., with 1,632 stores in 48 states says: "It pays to advertise in newspapers. That's why we spend the bulk of our advertising dollars in newspapers. Newspaper advertising gives retailers an invitation into the homes of those we want to reach—an can reach in no other economical way. (Note the word economical)

Sears, Roebuck and Company, with 864 stores, announced recently that its newspaper advertising has increased at least 7.7. per cent each year for nine consecutive years. Sears placed its major promotional emphasis on newspaper advertising since its entry into the retail field in 1925, so the constant increase in budget indicates more than satisfactory sale results.

At the National Retail Dry Goods Association conference in Cincinnati last year Evan L. Ellis of Crowley's Department Store in Detroit said, "I have yet to find a newspaper that I would consider unworthy or lacking in potential pulling power . . . It is so easy to see what we are buying, what we get for our money. If we cannot learn to use it to our best advantage then we must admit that we have failed rather than with the trite old rhubarb that the newspaper doesn't pull any more. When it doesn't pull any more, it is because of what you have done to your advertising, what you've neglected to put into it—Newspapers are the retailer's gold mine!"

This man was speaking to fellow merchants, he wasn't coining fancy phrases to make newspaper men happy.

Advertising pays, it is a low-cost, sure-fire entrance into homes in this area. Complete details and arrangements for future ads or contracts may be had by calling your Cameron Herald at 282.

Alcoa Preparing Last Potlines For Producing Aluminum

The Aluminum Company of America began April 1 preparing the last of its Rockdale Works potlines for producing aluminum.

These facilities are being readied to begin aluminum production when the second unit of the Sandow Power Plant begins continuous operation later this month.

This second power unit is one of three 80,000 kilowatt generators operated for Alcoa by Industrial Generating Company to supply the enormous quantities of electricity required for smelting aluminum at the Rockdale Works.

Pots in which aluminum is electorolytically reduced from aluminum oxide (alumina) are lined with carbon, and it is these linings which must be baked before smelting begins.

The pots now being prepared will bring the Rockdale Works to full production and will be in operation by April 24 when Rockdale Alcoa employees hold Family Day and Dedication. This is the first time the 1,000 employees have had an opportunity to show their families and friends where they work and how they produce aluminum.

The following day, Sunday, April 25, Rockdale Alcoans will hold Open House for the general public. Gates will be opened at 9:00 a.m., and guests will tour the aluminum smelting facilities and the power plant at their leisure.

J. D. Moore Gives Instructions For Cutworm Control

J. D. Moore, County Agent

Cutworms have this common name because of the habit of the larve (worm stage) of feeding on the stems of succulent plants at about the level of the ground, thereby either partially or entirely cutting them off at this point. Several hundred species have this habit and many kinds of garden and field crops suffer in this manner during the spring. A few have the habit of the plants at night and feeding there, some distance above the ground.

Most of these insects winter either as pupae or partly grown caterpillars. In the spring the worms pass the day in the ground, coming up at night to feed. Some species have one generation each year; others have two.

In controlling cutworms, a dust or spray may be used:

Dust Program

A. 10 per cent DDT; B. 20 per cent Toxaphene, 15 to 20 lbs. per acre.

Spray Program

A. Toxaphene DDT (2-1) mixture, 2 to 3 lbs per acre.

B. DDT, 1 to 3 lbs per acre.

C. Toxaphene, 2 to 3 lbs per acre.

In mixing small amounts, use 4 tablespoons of 60 per cent Toxaphene or 2-1 mixture to 1 gallon of water. Spray the ground thoroughly over a space of 1 foot in the drill or row where the plants are to be protected.

CAUTION: The cutworms sometimes stay in a border strip of clover or grass near the plants being damaged. It is advisable to spray around the borders of such areas for good results.

These insecticides will not injure garden crops except cucumbers, canteloupes and watermelons. Garden vegetables should not be treated with these insecticides within 7 to 14 days before eating the vegetables.

HORSTMANN BROTHERS

In The House Of Representatives

By Herman Yezak

The activities of the special session during the second week were centered around the passage by the revenue and taxation committee of a tax program to support the teacher pay raise and to increase the salaries of state employees.

A bill by Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen embodies the three-point taxation program by taxing natural gas, corporation franchise assets and beer in one tax bill.

The original natural gas tax levy in the Kilgore bill to provide a gas gathering tax of one-half cent per one thousand cubic feet was changed to a production tax by proposing an increase in the gas tax from the present 5.72 percent to 9.06 percent at market value. This gas tax plan would raise approximately fourteen million dollars annually. This plan would be constitutional while any other type of gas tax could be contested in courts as to its constitutionality.

The proposal to increase tax on corporation franchise assets in the Kilgore bill from $1.25 to $2.00 per $1,000 value would raise a littile over eight million dollars annually. This tax provision had no opposition at time it had a hearing before the committee.

The Kilgore bill would raise tax on beer from $1.37 to $2.00 per barrel and when computed on case lots would amount to approximately six cents per case. Revenue from this source is anticipated to be three million dollars annually.

The tax revenue from natural gas, franchise tax and beer would amount to about twenty-six million dollars recurring annually. To finance the teacher pay raise would require the three-point tax plan to pass and be enacted into law as presented and passed by committee. The bill was passed out of committee by a 16 to 4 vote.

The House of Representatives is expected to devote most of the time during the third week of the special session to the three-point tax plan as presented by the Governor and sponsored by Rep. Kilgore.

When the tax bill will be debated before the House numerous amendmnets are expected to be submitted with an exception to change the three-point tax plan. Several other gas tax proposals are pending including price fixing.

Bills of various description are being introduced which are not within the call for which the special session was intended. Such bills have been introduced but it is very doubtful for such proposals to receive favorable consideration by the Legislature unless proclaimed by the Governor for special consideration later.

High School students are visiting the Capitol daily and observe legislative proceedings. They usually tour the Capitol Building and visit state institutions in the Capitol City.

Public Protection Institute Slated At Waco April 2

Clarence A. Guittard, a prominent attorney of Dallas, will be one of the speakers scheduled to appear at the Public Portection Institute Friday, April 2 at the Roosevelt Hotel in Waco. Many attorneys from this area plan to attended this Institute.

Clarence A. Guittard

Means of protecting the public from persons practicing law without legal training will be the main topic of the institue sponsored by the State Bar of Texas.

Twenty-one of the institutes are being held throughout Texas because the subject "directly concerns every Texas citizen," said State Bar president Everrett L. Looney of Austin.

The State Bar of Texas has found that many non-lawyers—notaries public, real estate brokers, bank and insurance company employes, and abstracters—are practicing law in violation of Texas statutes.

"This practice by persons ignorant of the law has led to the improper drawing of many documents—deeds, wills, contracts and leases. They, in turn, have led to much expensive and unnecessary litigation which hurts the public," Looney said.

Means of curbing such unauthorized practice will be among the points of discussion at the meeting. Also on the agenda will be a discussion of disciplinary problems within the legal field.

Three Injured In Car Head-On Collision

Johnny D. Morgan of Cameron and two women occupants of a car driven by Robert Lee Melton, also from Cameron, suffered injuries when their automobiles met in a head-on collision on the north end of Elm Creek Bridge Monday morning.

Morgan was taken to the Newton Clinic for examination and was reported to have been treated for a fractured ankle and minor abrasions and lacerations.

Doris Goldsby and Irene Cavanaugh, colored, of Cameron, who occupied the Melton car, were taken to the St. Edwards Hospital where one was treated for a broken arm and the other was examined and found uninjured except for a bruised arm.

Melton, who driving a 1952 Ford sedan, told State Patrolmen who investigated the accident, that he saw the other car coming toward him with only one head-light and in the wrong lane so he applied his brakes and came to a complete stop. He reported that the other car kept coming, however, until he collided with their parked automobile.

Both cars, according to the investigating officers, were completely demolished, with motor of the Melton car thrown 51 feet north of the impact.

Morgan is being charged with Driving While Inebriated.

Social Security Benefits Lessens Fear of Future

"Old-age insurance under social security is playing an ever-increasing role in lessening the fear of economic insecurity in old-age," James B. Marley, Manager of the Austin social security office said.

To illustrate his point, Marley cited the case of an elderly woman who came to a social security office recently to make out a claim for retirement benefits. She was a domestic employee in her late sixties.

"For years," she said, "I feared the coming of the time when I'd have to stop working. Then, when household workers were given social security, I began to feel easier in my mind." (Regular employees in private households were not brought under the old-age and survivors provisions of the social security law until Jan. 1951.)

The claimant explained to the social security office claims assistant that she did not want to stop working, but she felt that, as a daughter, she was needed at home. He looked at her in amazement - amazement which did not lessen when she said, "You see, my mother is getting a bit feeble and can't do much around the house any more." The age of the mother was 101.

Lucko Rebuilds Worn Out Farm With Soil Conservation

Charlie Lucko, of the Bel Mena community has rebuilt a worn out farm in four years by using proper soil conserving and improving practices.

When Lucko took the farm four years ago, all the land was badly eroded. Wind had damaged the sandy portion of the farm and water had eroded the heavier soils. The cotton rows had previously run up and down the hills. The previous owner planted cotton year after year on the same land since crop rotations were not known on this farm. The first thing that Luckho did was to check the water erosion by putting in a terrace system and starting a rotation of legumes. The legumes helped to improve the soil structure, thereby storing more water in the soil. On the sandy fields, Lucko is practicing a method of plowing that leaves most of the old crop residue on the surface. Lucko said that this practice protected the soil from sun, wind and rain. More moisture is stored under the old crop residue than in the bare soils.

The main farming enterprise has been changed from cotton to livestock. About half of the farm is planted in oats and clover each year. The farm had 22 acres of permanent pasture. The remainder of the 105 acres is planted in temporary pasture and feed crops. No cotton has been on the farm in four years.

All the soil on the farm is in good condition. Lucko had added enough organic matter to keep the soil open. Plowing at the proper time has prevented a plow pan from farming.

Lucko is a new co-operator in the Central Texas Soil Conservation District. He considers conservation of both soil and water a very important part of his farming program.

Communist Control Bill In Texas Favored By Secrest

Senator Jarrard Secrest admonished the Legislature this week that the bill increasing the tax on natural gas should be constitutional one. "If there is anything that would be more disappointing to the general public than another unconstitutional gas tax, I do not know what it would be," said Secrest in a television report Saturday evening over KCEN-TV, Temple. The Senator from Temple said that an increased production tax would be clearly constitutional and said its passage was advocated over a gathering tax because the latter was almost sure to be attacked in the courts.

Secrest discussed the week's activities in the Legislature in the second of his series of legislative reports to the people of his Senatorial district of Bell, McLennan and Milam counties. He announced that the series would continue each Saturday evening at 6:15 over KCEN-TV as long as the Special Session lasts.

Communist control legislation occupied a large part of Secrest's legislative report. He explained the two laws which had been introduced in the Senate on the matter and reported the controversy which had been created by one of them because it would create a Loyalty Review Board with broad powers over individuals and organizations. Secrest as well as the rest of the Senate favored the bill making membership in the Communist party a felony. But he vigorously opposed the creation of the Loyalty Review Board which he labeled an indirect weakening of our right of trial by Jury.

"Legislators, like citizens generally, always want it distinctly understood that they have no sympathy for communists," Secrest said. "But control laws sometimes have in them procedures that would jeopardize constitutional rights of others than subversives and these laws must be challenged by conscientious legislators. But to do so sometimes requires much courage because of the fact that such cautious examination might be mistaken for reluctance to deal firmly with communists," the Temple Senator continued. "A dangerous situation will indeed exist in this country if citizens in any great number expect their legislative bodies to accept without question any measures that bear the label of anti-communist or if they question the loyalty of legislatures that attempt to insure that the proposed remedy will not be worse than the disease." Senator Secrest concluded.

so included for a new explorers camp site, which is now in the process of acquisition.

Camp facilities will be utilized by more than 7,500 boys and adult leaders from 223 chartered units which will use the camping facilities. Heart O' Texas Council serves the 9 county area in Central Texas which includes Bosque, Bell, Coryell, Falls, Freestone, Hamilton, Limestone, McLennan and Milam Counties.

The campaign, which will continue until May 22, is the first appeal for capital funds by the Heart O' Texas Council in its 30 year history. Fentress, in announcing the appointment of his vice chairmen, pointed out the urgent need for facilities. He said, "Many of our buildings at the camp are in a run-down condition with bad roofs, open and inadequate storage facilities and must be replaced. Our camp site need better water supplies, program equipment, sanitary facilities, kitchens and other basic essentials.

This appeal for funds is long over-due."

Schulz and Watson will assist Fentress in directing campaign activities in each community throughout the Council Area.

Barbeque Tonight To Climax Mens' Bowling League

The Mens' Winter League will climax its bowling season here tonight when the group meets for its League barbecue at the Knights of Columbus hall. Approximately 100 persons are expected to turn out for tonight's events, during which trophies will be awarded to the outstanding teams and players by Walter Anderle, president of the Columbus Club.

The Dukes captured the city bowling championship last Tuesday in a final play, with the Ranglers coming in for a close second. The Bums edged out the Falstaff team on Wednesday night of last week.

Each of the Dukes, composed of Ed McGuire, Gene Goldfarb, Frank Matula, Ralph Michalka and Clarence Allison will receive individual trophies for being on the winning team. Henry Schattle, Phillip Ermis, August Marek, Roland Knipp and J. E. McKenzie, members of the Bums team, will be awarded smaller trophies.

Joe Humplik will receive the League award for high average for the season and Gene Goldfarb will be presented the trophy for high point man.

Ed McGuire, president of the bowling league said that dancing may be enjoyed by the group following the banquet. Anderle will serve as master of ceremonies during the evening.

Frank Matula and Anderle are serving on the food committee while Jim McGoldrick, Rudolph Richter, Johnny Pernice and Joe Humplik are in charge of the drink committee. McGuire and Schattle are serving on the miscellaneous committee.

Emil Hollas, manager of the Knights of Columbus Hall, said that all men who participated in the winter league, may attend tonight's barbeque. He also added that final plans will be laid for the summer mixed bowling league, which will begin sometime during the early part of this month.

Car Inspection Deadline Nearing

Some three-quarters of a million Texas motorists who are driving about the streets and highways of the State today had better take close look at their calendars.

That's the number who have, as yet, failed to submit their autos for the annual safety inspection and there's but one remaining month to attend to it.

Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today in Austin that a "log jam" of vehicles at the inspection stations can still be averted unless a majority of the owners of the uninspected vehicles all decide to wait until the deadline before attempting to meet the provisions of the modified inspection law which was enacted by the last Legislature.

There is no apparent possibility of an extension beyond the April 15 deadline, the Safety Director stated, "but long waiting lines will not be encountered if the owners of cars which have not yet been inspected will visit their inspection stations right away and not put it off until the last minute."

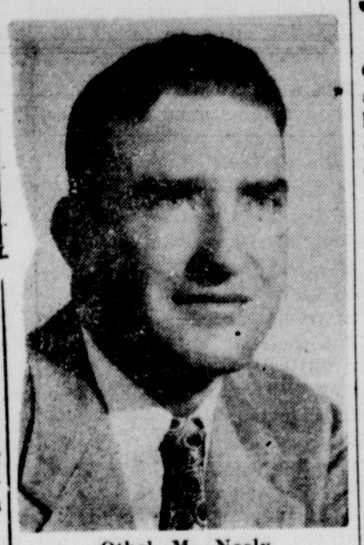
George Busby, Chief of the DPS Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, announced that 3,900 inspection stations are now in operation and that they are inspecting about 150,000 cars weekly with none of them reaching anywhere near a capacity "saturation point."

Garrison repeated the warning that operators of cars which do not bear an approved inspection sticker on April 16 and thereafter will be cited into court.

Cameron motorists may have their vehicles checked at the following inspection stations: Grabein Motors, Michalka Motors, McLain Pontiac Co., Schiller Motors, Duncam Motor Co., and also Hefley-Stedman Motor Co.

Youthful Head Of Heart O' Texas Fair Is On Job

Texas' youngest exposition, the Heart O' Texas Fair, has probably the youngest executive too—Othel M. Neely, who is busy with his new duties as executive vice president.



Othel M. Neely

Neely, not yet 28, graduated frmo A & M in 1948.

For the past three years he was manager of the agriculture and livestock department of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, resigning to assume his present duties.

The Heart O' Texas Fair was launched last year and Neely was executive board secretary and general superintendent.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neely Sr., live in Stephenville.

"Work is my hobby," says the smiling six-footer, who is unmarried.

Dates of the Heart O' Texas Fair are Oct. 2 through 9.

Highway Deaths Decrease During '53

The 1953 highway traffic death book for Texas was officially closed March 18 according to Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Final figures for last year disclosed that 2,368 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle traffic accidents during the period. This is a 5.2 percent decrease over 1952 when 130 more persons died than during 1953.

Garrison said that this reduction gave the state a 6.4 death rate—the lowest in the history of accident analysis in Texas. The death rate is figured on the basis of the number of fatalities per each 100 million motor vehicle miles traveled.

"We are gratified by the 1953 record and the continuing decline in the death rate," Garrison said. He pointed out that less people were traffic fatalities last year in spite of the fact that motorists racked up nearly 1-2 billion more miles of travel than during the preceding twelve months.

Total number of injuries dropped, also—to 110,097 — which was 2,871 below the number for 1952. The economic loss declined by more than $5 million - to a total of $148,958,000 for the year.

Even the total number of accidents decreased, too. The final figures showed 233,1766 traffic mishaps - some 5,000 less than for 1952.

88,000 Tons of Hay Shipped to Drouth Stricken Counties

AUSTIN, Texas, March 24 — Gov. Allan Shivers Wednesday announced 88,000 Tons of hay have been shipped to drouth-stricken counties in West Texas under an emergency state - federal program.

Shivers said the State Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, had sponsored a program underwriting transportation costs of 88,000 tons of hay for sections in drouth distress.

The governor, who previously had announced broadening of a program to aid 12 drouth-stricken West Texas counties, said the state was continuing its cooperation with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the U. S. emergency feed program.

Thus far, Shivers said, 226,444 tons of meal and pellets, 4,527 cars of corn and oats, and 21,409,146 pounds of mixed feed have been shipped into affected counties by federal agencies.

WONDERMENT is written all over Bobby's face as he attempts to climb the specially built training steps at an Easter Seal treatment center. Bobby is just one of thousands of Texas youngsters who benefited from dollars raised by the Texas Society for Crippled Children through Easter Seal Campaigns.

Millions of appeal letters containing the bright blue and yellow Seals were sent to Texas homes inaugurating the 21st annual campaign.

"Crippled Children are our greatest undeveloped natural resource," said Martin M. Ricker, Executive Director of the Texas Society.

"There are other Bobby's who want to walk and ask for only the opportunity to lead a useful life." he further stated. "You can do your part in helping Bobby and thousands of other Texas youngsters by using Easter Seals."

The Texas Society was chartered in 1934 and has 92 affiliated county societies operating 23 treatment centers.

May Draft Quota Is 999

A draft call for 999 men from Texas for May was announced by State Selective Service Headquarters Wednesday.

The call compares with an April quota of 1,030 and a March quota of 985.

Director Paul L. Wakefield said in addition to the May induction call, another 1,000 men will be sent for combined physical examinations the same month.

The examinations will be allotted to only 31 of the state's 137 local boards. Wakefield said the 31 were those having the largest number of older men registered.

Boards will be required to fill May quotas with men 20 years old or older if they have them. If necessary to reach its quota, however, a board may send 19-year olds for induction.

New Automotive Fuel Made from Aviation Gas Components

A new "high performance" automotive fuel, made possible by the use of aviation gasoline components recently released from government priority, has been developed by Phillips Petroleum Company.

The new gasoline contains Di-isopropyl, a high test ingredient originated by Phillips, which made possible more powerful, higher anti-knock fuels for combat aircraft. Until recently, the use of super avaition gasoline components has been restricted by military authorities for use in high performance aviation gasoline. These have now been released for use in automotive gasoline, and Phillips is able to use not only Dis-isopropyl but also HF Alkylate, both originated and first manufactured by Phillips.

According to Phillips research authorities the new gasoline designated "Flite-Fuel for your car, offers important performance advantages. It provides increased power, higher anti-knock quality, greater fuel economy, and a freedom from stalling.

Equally important, say Phillips authorities, are the clean burning qualities of the new gasoline. Use of natural gas components, which leave scarcely any carbon residue, eliminates the necessity for special gasoline additives to combat engine deposits.

Distribution of the new gasoline has already begun, and it will be available in the near future at all Phillips 66 service stations.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER GETS UPSET OVER NEBRASKA EDITOR WHO REPORTED A TORNADO WAS WELCOMED IN HIS TOWN

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River must have his mind on tornadoes, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editar·

A pretty high wind was blowin out here on my farm the other day and I was standin by the side of the barn with a dip net seein how many newspapers I could catch as they blew past and after I'd gotten all I figured I needed, never did like to see a man make a pig of himself, with a fish or newspapers either, I got in out of the wind and started readin.

Over on an inside page of one paper I ran into an article that knocked me over, even if I was out of the wind.

Accordin to this article, a tornado hit a town up in Nebraska a while back and blew down a lot of buildings and after it was over the editar of the local newspaper up there said it was a good thing it happened it should have happened 20 years earlier, now the town could get some modern buildings.

I want you to know I do not take such an attitude, and I hope the idea will not spread.

My barn for example is not what you'd call modernistic, it ain't exactly upright, it may lean a little to the east, the roof may leak in places, but I wouldn't be interested in encouragin a tornado to attend to it. It doesn't take a cow long to find out where the dry spots are in a barn, and I figure a barn which has leaned for twenty years can go leaning a few years more.

Or take my house. It aint what you'd call any style of architecture in particular, and I guess there are people who might call it an eyesore, but I can sleep as sound in it as I could in a 20-room mansion and frequently there times when I get more sleep in it than Eisenhower does in the White House. I'll admit the front gate sags, but not any more than the shoulders of lots of men who have worked their heads off to get bronze hinges on their gates. As for me, I got sense enough to put my shoulders ahead of my gate.

Understand, I'm not opposed to progress, I like to see new buildings go up, new homes, etc., but I don't want anybody, either a tornado or the government, telling me when I ought to do something about my own premises. Even a few well-placed bombs might result in eventual progress, but I doubt if there's anybody in favor of one fallin in this vicinity.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

CASTOR BEANS —
ased for their crop.

Mr. Nelson pointed out that although prices had slightly dropped for the beans this year it is hoped that they will raise before harvest time. He also emphasized the fact that the crop is very inexpensive to plant, cultivate and harvest, since the initial cost will be only $1.40 per acre, or 14 cents for each pound of seed.

He added that much of the land in the area which is not suitable for cotton will be suitable for castor beans although it is not a profitable crop just plant, forget and harvest.

One of the main points he [illegible] was Milam Countys need for a cash crop, and the castor bean seems to fill this need in every respect.

The local P.M.A. office officials reported that further information can be obtained at their office and some demonstrations on harvesting the crop will be held later in the season.

JURY — ty of negligence and driving without lights. Carrol Wayne Jones, minor, and his mother were not found guilty of negligence by the Jury, however, the driver of the car, in which Carrol Jones was riding, was found to be driving at an excessive speed and on the wrong side of the road, thus no damages was assessed by the Jury.

The suit came as the result of an automobile and truck accident which happened between Gause and Hearne in 1951. The plaintiff, Carrol Wayne Jones suffered a broken leg and other injuries with the other member of the family also sustaining injuries. Jones was sueing for $31,500 in the damage suit.

Helm and Jones of Houston were attorneys for the plaintiff. They were assisted by J. W. (Jim) Miller, local attorney. The defendant was represented by Lucian Touchstone of Dallas and assisted by Emory Camp of Cameron.

SCHOOL —
le) played by Kenneth Porter; Hiram Tutt (an awful nut) by Ervalin Jungmann; Patrick Keller (a ticket seller) by Billy Henderson; Samantha Slade (a poor old maid) by Ola Fay Fritz; Rosebud Reese (her charming niece) by Betty Gommert; Paula Maleek (a Bolshevick) by Velma McClain and Lula Pearl (a Raytime girl) by Alice Johle.

The time is today at a Railroad station at Slabtown, Missouri. The cast is supported by a group of extras who will do some special numbers between acts.

The story, highly humorous and fast moving, will delight all ages. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Proceeds will defray expenses for the Senior trip to New Orleans.
